About Timișoara

The capital of the historical province of Banat, Timișoara is the residence of Timiș County and the cultural and economic centre of the western part of Romania. With a population of 306,462, the city crossed by the Bega River has long maintained its reputation as a western, cross-border, young and entrepreneurial city.

The city was built over an ancient Roman fortress, and the first documentary attestation dates back to the 12th century. Timișoara owns the largest ensemble of old buildings in Romania, consisting of the urban ensembles of the Cetate, Iosefin, Elisabetin and Fabric neighbourhoods. The varied architecture, the influences of the Viennese Baroque and the multitude of parks have earned Timișoara the reputation of "Little Vienna" and the "City of Parks".

Between 1880 and 1914, Timișoara was the most important industrial, commercial, financial and cultural city in the region, admired for its artistic excellence in music, literature, painting, sculpture and architecture, as well as for its technical and scientific innovations.

Even before 1989, in the middle of the Cold War era and a totalitarian political regime, Timișoara was considered an experimental and ingenious city, where conceptual art Sigma Group and the rock band Phoenix started. It was the only place in the country where artists were performing in public spaces.

It is a multicultural city, influenced by various ethnic communities, such as German, Hungarian and Serbian, but also Bulgarian, Italian, Greek and Roma. Also, Orthodox believers, Catholics, Jews, Protestants, Lutherans, Reformed, Muslims and other denominations practise their religion in harmony. In Timișoara, the meaning of the word "tolerance" has evolved to "fraternity".

Timișoara is an important intersection of destinations in Europe, with seven major capitals in Central and South-Eastern Europe within a radius of 600 kilometres: Belgrade, Budapest, Bratislava, Vienna, Zagreb, Skopje and Bucharest. It is also an important railway centre, while the Bega Canal is the oldest navigable channel on the current territory of Romania.

Winter in Timișoara, the European Capital of Culture, begins with a fascinating energy at the National Art Museum through the long-awaited exhibition "Brancusi: Romanian Sources and Universal Perspectives". From September 30 until January 20, the Timiș County Council, the Timișoara National Art Museum, together with the organizers Art Encounters Foundation and the French Institute in Romania, invite the public to follow how Brâncusi managed to cross all geographical, historical, and formal borders to ensure that special place, not attached to any artistic current.

We are waiting for you in Timișoara.

EUROPEAN BALKAN FAMILY MEDICINE CONFERENCE entitled:

"TECHNOLOGICAL REVOLUTION AND INNOVATIVE METHODS IN MEDICAL PRACTICE"

Recently, family medicine has become the foundation of modern medical systems that represent the interface with the patient, turning into a proactive medical specialty, approaching medicine holistically, comprehensively, integrated, and centered on the patient, to preserve the health of the people in care through the development of prophylactic services and active monitoring of chronic diseases.

Today, family medicine has become a specialty at the European level that solves most cases in medical offices through the judicious use of various modern, miniaturized medical devices, with lower costs alongside the classic clinical examination, for the rapid establishment of a most accurate diagnosis in the segment of primary medicine and the extension of high-performance services in the community, with the possibility of using telemedicine and artificial intelligence services in this field. Your support for the organization of this conference contributes to the fulfillment of this desire.

The Balkan Conference of Family Medicine 2023 will benefit from an impeccable organization, in an accessible location for participants and with a rich offer of accommodation in this year's European Capital of Culture.
