

Egon and Ann Diczfalusy Foundation

Empathy, Science, Hope — Medicina Anchora Salutis

Announcement & Call for Participation

18th Annual Meeting of the Egon and Ann Diczfalusy Foundation (DAL 18)

8–10 October 2026 | Szeged, Hungary

Dear Colleagues, we are pleased to invite reproductive health professionals, obstetricians, gynaecologists, midwives, and residents to the 18th Diczfalusy Memorial Lecture and Symposium (DAL 18), to be held 8–10 October 2026 at the Main Building of the University of Szeged, Hungary. Since 2007, this annual scientific forum has brought together renowned speakers presenting the latest advances in obstetrics and gynaecology, alongside young professionals sharing their research through lectures and poster presentations. This year's meeting will also commemorate the Foundation's founder, Prof. Egon Diczfalusy, on the tenth anniversary of his passing.

Main Conference Topics

- AI-Driven Women's Health
- Challenges in Reproductive Health
- Education in Obstetrics and Gynaecology
- Reproductive Longevity and Fertility Preservation
- Free Talks and Poster Presentations

The Diczfalusy Lifetime Scientific Achievement Award and the Young Diczfalusy Award will be presented during the meeting. The Foundation warmly encourages university departments and professional societies to distribute this information and support their members, staff and students in visiting DAL18. The Diczfalusy Symposium is traditionally low-cost, keeping participation accessible for professionals and trainees alike. The best poster presentations will receive awards (a certificate and a cash prize)!

Registration Fee: Residents €100 | All Others €150 (accommodation excluded)

Register: forms.gle/hwfBTJ8ngKCTqN1v6

Submit Abstracts: www3.szote.u-szeged.hu/dal-szeged/abstract

Full Programme & Updates: diczfalusyfoundation.org/dal-meetings/2026

We look forward to welcoming you and your colleagues to Szeged.

Prof. Ferenc Bari, PhD, DSc

President, Egon and Ann Diczfalusy Foundation